

RELEASE FORM

I, Xiangyi Li, am a participant in a student folklore project associated with the University of Southern California.

I understand that the purpose of the project is to collect folklore from me, from transcripts of what I say, and from any optional additional recording devices (such as audio recordings, photographs, or video recordings), that were used during the interview; I also understand that these will become a permanent part of the University of Southern California's Folklore Archives, to be used for scholarly and educational purposes.
